Dedicated to the Whole Earth
All its peoples + all its species.

What Whole Earth will say:

Why we will continue on the cutting edge.

A sane + sustainable civilization.
A sane + sustainable culture.

Sane cultures in/ sustain viable ecosystems, enduring

Sane human cultures
in viable ecosystems.

A sane

The roots → human nature

Sane according to what?

- Low level of physical + psychological suffering
- Zig zag to the right + left to what works;

The changes that are happening now are at such a macro level
+ no one sees where they will lead.

Will capitalism ~~be the end~~ work itself out of a job? — will it be discarded as a ladder that brought us to a new level?

Is there another plateau —
- for some people
- for everyone

The Publishing environment:

what wasn't out there before
what is out there now

- publications that pick up on every new theme that they get an article on it immediately.

What is desperately missing in society

- Public places for interaction on public interests.
- Private communal places for random interactions with
  - life long friends.
  - acquaintances.
  - the children of our friends:
- Village + regional (county size) government

How solving that would not be enough

(a) – Solving in the old way.

(b) Solving in the new way.

- on the internet
  more bandwidth
- non-place limited
  groups + clusters

Does this provide the best of both worlds?

(c) Solving in both ways

ecologically based villages with communicational access to other people every where in the world.
